THE GRACEFUL GET-AWAY AS A FINE ART

GEORGETOWN SOON SELECTS COACHES

Those for Baseball, Basketball, and Track Teams Must Be Chosen in Near Future—Hilltop Expects a Hard Game Today.

By BRYAN MORSE.

The question of coaches for the basketball, track and baseball teams will probably be taken up tomorrow with the athletic board at Georgetown, according to Graduate Manager Vincent Dalley. There seems to be little probability that a selection will be made at this time as there is no immediate need for any of the men at present.

The athletic board will talk over the situation. No definite announcement is expected although the selections will only be made and ratified within a month. Owing to the fact that the athletics of the university are under the supervision of one person this year it is more than likely that some member of the alumni may be persuaded to take up the coaching as it is understood that graduate system of coaching will be in vogue, following the football policy adopted this fall.

Several men have been mentioned for the position as basketball coach, Collier, former Georgetown basketball captain being talked of in connection with the team. For the baseball team, Dick Harley has been spoken of. The selection of a possible candidate for track coach has not been mentioned. There seems to be a chance that this job too, will be tendered an alumnus.

No appointments have been made, however, and the matter has as yet been made the subject of discussion between the members of the athletic board. The cases will be talked over for the first time tomorrow when the names of many candidates for the three positions will be looked over.

Georgetown is meeting Washington and Lee this afternoon, the game being called at 3:30 o'clock. While the Blue and Gray is at the Hilltop a second team is engaging in a game with the Richmond Blues at Richmond, the team that Billy Stuttering is coaching.

That Washington and Lee is to have a capable eleven goes almost without saying. The team is bound to give Georgetown a harder game than either Randolph-Macon or Mt. St. Mary's, and should put the Blue and Gray in a tight place. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock.

Derby, who is starting at right end today, has earned his position on the team like Murray, by consistent plugging, attention to details and the display of a willingness at all times, which

BEST AT LAUREL TRACK COME OUT ON TODAY'S CARD

Chevy Chase Steeplechase and All-Ages Handicap Are Features.

A rich Saturday card is in order this afternoon at Laurel with the $1,500 Chevy Chase Steeplechase and an all-ages handicap as features. The fields are large throughout and bring out the best material at the track.

The curtain raiser is a six-furlong dash for two-year-olds. This seems to be a soft spot for Paris Queen, which ran such a good second to Coy on Wednesday. The contention should lie between Henpeck and Grosvenor.

A big bunch of speedy ones is carded in the second race, and with the weight adjustments the picking will be very difficult. Rightaway figures good here.

The mare ran a cracking good race last Saturday, beating such a clever one as Housemaid. That race should give her the preference today. Of the others Perthshire looks very tempting. The colt showed up in good form Wednesday, and was just nosed out by Superstition for the third place with a fast field, including Asynde, behind him. If Isabel is ready she will be dangerous.

The third race should be strictly between Sprite and Froglegs. The filly has the most early speed, and may last long enough to beat the Schorr colt, which will be coming at the end.

Chevy Chase Steeplechase. The Welkin takes up 165 pounds in the Chevy Chase Steeplechase, but if Colonel Farr's grand mare is fit and ready her class will make her win here. Idle Michael and Gun Cotton should fight it out for the place.

Dr. Duener figures the winner in the all-ages handicap. He has been going at his best in his last races, and it does not look as if there is anything to carry him along today in the early stages. Cliff Edge and G. M. Miller may be the contenders.

A big field of ordinary players is entered in the sixth race, and it is hard to single out a winner. Henry Hutchinson may be good enough to win here, but he will have plenty of contention. Troy Weight and Muff will go well.

Bonnie Eloise, too, may have a look in.

For the last race of the day, old Superstition figures very good. Wednesday he made his first start at this track, and ran third in a fast field. He just needed that race, and today with nothing to make such a hot early pace as he was up against Wednesday.

Decidedly the feature of yesterday's racing was the meeting between Leochares, Frederick L., and Rock View, three of the best two-year-olds in training. Frederick L. went to the post the favorite, but he finished behind the other two, beaten squarely on his merits.

Victory No Surprise. Rock View's victory was no surprise to the insiders. The colt had worked five-eighths over the deep, sandy track at Benning in 1:01 and a half in 0:48. The little bunch of horsemen who are training at the Washington track were down to a man on the Belmont colt.

The winner is a typical Rock Sand, not overly large, but compact and with quality in every line. It will be remembered that Rock View won the Nursery at Filmore this spring.

Colonel Tom McDowell showed up a rather clever two-year-old in Chino, just ran second in the opening event. The colt displayed a high turn of speed, and if he had not been raced to death in an attempt to kill off insurance men, might have won. As it was, Ralph Lloyd came along and nipped him.

PLAY FINALS AND SPECIAL MATCH AT COLUMBIA COURSE

Walter J. Travis Gaining on Competitors for Golf Leadership.

Semi-finals and finals in the annual fall golf tournament of the Columbia Country Club is scheduled for today, together with a special eighteen hole medal play competition.

With the completion of the second day's play in the annual fall tournament of the Columbia Country Club on the links at Chevy Chase yesterday, Walter J. Travis, former national champion, gained a firmer foothold on the leadership in the list of probable winners, showing form regarded as sufficiently impressive to land the coveted honors.

In the morning round he found a rather easy victim in H. C. Chamberlain, of Columbia, winning by 5 up and four to play. Chamberlain appeared to realize that he was matched with an artist, his untidiness, coupled with numerous breaks in luck, practically putting him out of the running in the early stages.

P. J. Hodges, A. Mattingly, and J. W. Brawner, of Columbia Country Club; Robert Weir, of Wilmington; W. Tucker, of Chevy Chase; Garfield Scott, of Philadelphia, were the other winners in the morning round. Considerable interest was manifested in the outcome of the match between Edward J. Eynon, Jr., and A. Mattingly, both of Columbia.

Gridiron Gossip.

Princeton made ninety-six yards in four forward passes against Lehigh.

Fordham opened her first football season in three years with a victory.

Wendell, Harvard's captain, fumbled just as he was going over the line in the Holy Cross game.

Probst, captain of the Syracuse eleven, lost like a prominent candidate for the All-American tackle position.

Flynn, Yale's end for fullback, stands six feet three inches, weighs 186 pounds, and makes a streak of lightning look slow.

Gilchrist, Navy's crack quarterback, is proving a good man to carry the ball. He made the sailors' only score against Johns Hopkins.

Jourdet, Penn's veteran right end, is the first player to be banished from a game this season for "ungentlemanly conduct."

Lafayette is priming its eleven to hand Yale a surprise Saturday and graduates from everywhere will attend it to see a possible victory.

"By" Dickson, Bucknell's coach, is finding trouble by the large size of his varsity squad. He cannot give the individuals enough attention.

Tommy Todd, Virginia's captain, has not been prominent yet at Charlottesville because of injuries, but great things are expected of him later.

Y. M. C. A. TOURNEY REACHES DOUBLES; DRISCOLL WINNER

Defeats Chesley on Courts in Final Round of Men's Singles.

Drawings for the doubles in the annual fall tennis tournament of the Y. M. C. A. will be made today immediately after the completion of the matches in the consolation singles. F. B. Driscoll defeated A. M. Chesley in the final round of the singles. This match was one of the best contested of the singles. Driscoll waxed weak early in the fourth set, but with the score 5 to 2 against him, he rallied, and won five straight games, taking the match by 7 to 5.

Driscoll will now meet Charles T. Chapman, the present champion of the Y. M. C. A., who was runner-up in the District tournament this year, having been defeated by Gordon in the finals.

The tournament has been a very successful one and disclosed the fact that a large number of the members are developing into real tennis players. A summary of the results in singles follows:

Yale-Harvard Tickets To Be Issued Singly

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 12.—In a statement issued yesterday to the Yale alumni desiring tickets for the Yale-Harvard football game to be played in this city on November 23 Everard Thompson, manager of the ticket department, announced that those who were desirous of seeing the game without fail should apply for one ticket only, as the tickets for two tickets would not be allotted any.

In order to soften as much as possible the hardships of the single ticket, allotment it has been decided to allow not more than two applicants for a single ticket, each to pin their applications together. The tickets on these applications will then be allotted together.

Catholic University Opposes Rock Hill

With probably the heaviest team that has ever represented the Catholic University, Coaches McDevitt and Greer are today in Ellcott City to meet the Rock Hill College eleven. The players with the Brookland team are:

Indians vs. Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 12.—Carlisle hopes to reverse last year's victory here today over the Syracuse eleven. The Indian forwards have taken a decided break during the past week, and is expected to prove of considerable aid to the speedy backfield.

SWARTHMORE TEAM SHOULD TEST PENN

Veteran Eleven in Superb Condition Opposes Quakers, Who Have Many Star Players on Hospital List. Expect Hard Fought Game.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 12.—Handicapped by having many regulars on the injured list, Penn meets the powerful Swarthmore eleven today at Franklin Field in what should be a grueling contest. Swarthmore's work this season shows almost equal strength as that of the Quakers and the victory should be well-earned for either eleven.

Crane, the former Lafayette star, will not play for Penn, owing to an injured ankle. Harrington's weak shoulder keeps him out of the lineup. Dillon's ankle precludes his appearance.

Swarthmore has a veteran eleven, every man but Albertson, the guard, being a player of at least two years' experience. The line is as big and strong as that of the Quakers, while the backfield is well-balanced, and has one of the best kickers in the East in Clime.

Not Crossed. Swarthmore has a veteran eleven, every man but Albertson, the guard, being a player of at least two years' experience. The line is as big and strong as that of the Quakers, while the backfield is well-balanced, and has one of the best kickers in the East in Clime.

A good beginning does not always mean a good ending, but the Red and Blue team has been showing unquestionable strength and unless misfortune overtakes the men in the shape of injuries, it is sure to win most of its big games. The coaches have been rather more fortunate than they have been in past seasons. Injuries are playing but a small part in the practices so far this year, while several men who have been held down by studies, are eligible to play.

Chief among these is Aggie Heilmann, the big halfback of the 189 team. He reported last Thursday and is now being used in scrimmage practice. Harrington sustained an injury to his shoulder in the Princeton game last Saturday, and has been worked carefully this week. A few extra pads should enable him to play against Swarthmore.

Mike Murphy Back. To the great delight of the coaches and players, Mike Murphy has returned to Franklin Field last Thursday. He is far from hardy looking, but his return to New England put him in better spirits. Mike is intensely pleased with the work of the team. "All they need," he says, "is a couple of big fellows in the center of the line to absorb the shock." From the way Greer and MacNaughton have been filling the guard positions, however, it seems that the big fellows whom Mike longs for, are already here. Jourdey is continuing to shine at left tackle, while Jack Dillon is steadily suppressing all new candidates for the right tackle position. Jourdet, Young, Minda, Marshall, and Mercer are keeping up their effective work. Marshall is particularly pleasing. His generalship and individual running improve weekly.

All goes smoothly in the coaching department. Gaston and Wolfert have not missed a day on the field, while Jack Hedges is giving his invaluable instructions to the ends every afternoon. Andy Smith has full charge of the backs, and their record this year speaks louder in his praise than words possibly could. Old stars drop in almost daily to help out with the work. Joe McCracken has full charge of the scrub, while Ed Thayer discharges the duties of coach for the kickers. Bob Torrey, Hunter Scarlett, Morris, Crooks, Hutchinson, Coombe, and Fretz have all been on the field within the past week.

George Brook's Swarthmore team is the black cloud on Penn's horizon at present. If the Red and Blue weathers that storm without springing a leak in the scored-on column, it will be time for Coach Smith to draw a long breath.

Philbin Earns Place in Yale's Backfield

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 12.—Philbin will start today's game against Lafayette at left halfback, a reward for his failure to fumble during the practice scrimmages of the last two days. Overcoming this weakness, Philbin is one of the best backs in the game and the coaches think he will shine in today's contest. The other back will be Captain Spalding and "Lefty" Flynn. Yale will have its strongest eleven on the field, though Bonmeister and Clime are out with injuries.

Lafayette has a strong team and is primed for the clash with the Elis, hoping to win its first game here.

Dartmouth Battles Husky Vermonters

HANOVER, N. H., Oct. 12.—The husky Vermont eleven is expected to give Dartmouth its first real test of the season today here. Last year the Green won 12 to 0 and every effort today will be made to better that score. Dartmouth has rested for three days in order to be in the best of shape for the battle.

Eleventh-hour shifts have been made in the Green team. Englehorn takes Rector's place at tackle. Baranda, who has been at left tackle, starts at end. Beer takes Hinman's place at guard.

Cornell's Varsity Is Ready for New York

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 12.—So decided has been the improvement of the varsity practice here during the last few days that Cornell expects to win from New York University by a comfortable margin. However, many of Cornell's best men cannot play because of poor physical condition, among them being Captain Butler, O'Connor, Whyte, and Miller.

Expect Victory.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 12.—The Army looks for a victory today over Rutgers, although several of the strongest players will be absent from the soldier eleven. Herriek, the big guard, will not play because of his weak ankle. Keyes, just discharged from the hospital, can yesterday in a tug, but will hardly be in the line-up.

HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

Humors get into the blood usually because of an inactive condition of the system. Those members whose duty it is to expel all refuse matter do not properly perform their work, and an unhealthy accumulation is absorbed into the blood. Then instead of performing its natural function of nourishing the skin, the circulation irritates and inflames it because of its impure condition. A thorough cleansing of the blood is the only certain cure for any skin disease; external applications can only give temporary relief. S. S. S. goes into the circulation and drives all humors from the blood, and in this way makes a permanent and complete cure in every form of skin trouble. S. S. S. supplies the blood with the nutritive qualities necessary to sustain the skin and preserve its natural texture and perfect appearance. S. S. S. cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, and all other skin eruptions or diseases. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

TEST FOR MIDDIES COMES IN LEHIGH CONTEST TODAY

Navy Coaches, Taking No Chances, Will Send in Heavy Backfield.

WALLER WILL PLAY HALFBACK AGAINST VIRGINIA ELEVEN

Good Work in Practice Is Rewarded by Tiger Coaches.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 12.—In today's contest with Virginia Polytechnic Institute, "Tubby" Waller makes his debut as a varsity back with the Tigers and while there are no definite suggestions, he should be a success. The Southerners are reputed to have a powerful defense, something needed to stop the flying backfield of the Tigers. The attack of the visitors should show the coaches here the weaknesses of the forwards and prove of benefit for the remainder of the season. Baker gets his initial trial at quarterback with the varsity and much depends upon it. If he fails, Captain Pendleton will go back to his old position as general of the team. Pendleton, however, will not play throughout the game today, the coaches not caring to overwork him.
